WILLKIE FACES HEAVY DAY IN SAN FRANCISCO

Returns to Region Where He Worked 30 Years Ago as Harvest Hand.

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21—Wendell L. Willkie, who "rode the rods" into this city 30 years ago as a youthful harvest hand, returned today to climax his campaign for the state's electoral votes with a speech on foreign affairs. Before his address tonight in the Civic auditorium, however, he had a heavy day of speechmaking through the bay area. More than a dozen impromptu talks were on his schedule.

The Republican presidential nominee, a white carnation in his buttonhole, arrived last night after receiving cheers and some heckling in talks through the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. It was in the latter's sunny fields that he worked at the age of 18.

Won't Pull Punches

Willkie's final speech Friday, before a trainside audience, at Sacramento, brought a declaration that friends had been saying, "Wendell, you should pull your punches."

"I don't know how to fight that way," Willkie added. "If this administration thinks it can get away with the record of the road to bankruptcy, with the road of unemployment, with the centralization of power in Washington that it has attempted to accomplish and not have me tell the American people about it, it is mistaken."

Willkie's voice was slightly husky last night after making nine talks in a day, but he expressed satisfaction with his program, saying: "Thousands and thousands of people have come out to see me."

Willkie appealed to Democrats to vote for him, because, he said, the present campaign is "not a fight between Democrats and Republicans," but a "conflict between those who believe in the New Deal philosophy and those who do not."

In his Fresno, Calif. speech, Willkie was cheered by many when he asked whether any Democrat would vote against him "because I am advocating that no man should occupy the office of president for three terms."

Foe's Only Argument

A few shouts of "no" were interspersed with scattered boos and cries of "we want Roosevelt." The latter came mostly from children. Noting that, Willkie said, "I may say in response to these occasional interruptions...they are the only kind of arguments I have heard in opposition up until now."

There was applause as Willkie continued:

"You people in the valley have a tradition of voting the Democratic ticket, and I respect that."

Wilkie was showered with confetti and paper streamers as he drove through Fresno streets to the courthouse park.

JAP WARSHIPS BACK UP INDO-CHINA MOVE

Chinese Forces Also Line Up Along Border.

By The Associated Press

HONGKONG, Sept. 21 — The British-owned newspaper China Mail reported today that "since yesterday morning" Japanese warships had moved into Tonking bay "as a persuasive gesture" to back up Japanese negotiations for military rights in French Indo-China.

At the same time Chinese sources said that crack Chinese government troops were massing along the border of Kwangsi and Yunnan provinces ready to move into French Indo-China if Japan should resort to force.

The situation was tempered somewhat by word from Haiphong that negotiations between French and Japanese officials had been resumed at Hanoi after a breakdown which followed a 72-hour Japanese ultimatum.

The Chinese press said the Japanese demands delivered to French authorities included:

First, Hanoi and Langson to become Japanese military bases. Hanoi and Laokay to become Japanese air bases; Haiphong, Tonkin bay and Kwangchowan to be leased as Japanese naval bases.

Second, Indo - Chinese tariff rates to be revised in order to effect close Japanese Indo-Chinese economic cooperation.

Third, the number of Japanese troops to be allowed passage through the colony to be unlimited.

Weather Helps Britain Tone Down Air Attacks

Raiders Expected Back with Renewed Vigor as Skies Clear; Watchers Keep Eye on Channel for First Invasion Signs.

By The Associated Press

Britons' credited stormy weather and a stout defense today with taking the edge off the 14th consecutive dusk - to - dawn German bomb attack on England, but now looked for a quick renewal of fiercer air war with fast clearing skies.

Nazi bombs thundered down at intervals during the night on central and southern London. Tightening British censorship held up mention of the exact time and length of the attacks.

The British said, however, that casualties appeared fewer than on previous nights.

One group of raiders appeared over the British capital after a night-long series of attacks and British counter-assaults on Nazi-held channel "invasion ports." Anti-aircraft guns blazed away for a short time in central London, the first formation of raiders soon disappeared and the brief raid alarm ended.

Exchange Telegaph News agency reported three raiders over Kent retreated in the face of the heavy British fire, one of them jettisoning its bombs in the sea.

The authoritative British press association said additional raiders dropped bombs near two southeastern towns and that bomb fragments fell in several districts.

Report Casualties Fewer

An official announcement said last night's attacks on London caused casualties "rather less than on previous nights."

British defenders, reporting a "marked improvement" in English channel weather this morning after three days of gales and high waves, scanned the straits of Dover for any signs of a German thrust by sea.

Observers on the English cliffs said the RAF concentrated a heavy assault on the Dunkerque and Calais areas of coastal France where the Germans are reported gathering men and machinery for an invasion attempt.

Although the watchers said the sound of bombing and anti-aircraft fire did not reach the intensity of attacks of the three previous nights, bright bursts of flame rose from the coast to indicate new fires had been set.

In a region just east of London, anti-aircraft gunners destroyed two German planes within five minutes. The first ship exploded in flames after a direct hit, and the second, flying toward London, was blown to pieces by gunfire.

The Germans termed their attacks on and near London "successful" despite weather which they said gave them more trouble than the British defense. The German news agency, DNB, said the British also tried a strong air attack aimed at Berlin, but that the raiders were turned back.

Say Rail Lines Hit

Nazi bomber pilots claimed heavy attacks on important rail lines west of the big bend of the Thames in "thick" weather which they said gave them more trouble than did the British defense.

The official German news agency, DNB, said Britain's counter raids were aimed at Berlin, one wave approaching Hamburg via the German bight and the second piercing western Germany as far as Hanover.

Both flights, DNB said, were stopped by "surprise" German anti-aircraft barrages, then pursued by fighter planes.

German sources said 12 British planes were destroyed in action over England while only one Nazi machine was missing.

At the same time the press continued its thundercus abuse of Britain.

The Boersen Zeitung turned to the Bible and said:

"From the Old Testament we learn that more than once on the command of God it is necessary to eradicate a whole generation. May it not be possible that we now are in an age of which the Bible speaks in which it is necessary to bring about a cleansing of peoples?"

Bulgaria formally took over southern Dobruja, ceded by Rumania. Bulgarian officials took over public buildings last night when the Rumanian troops left, and border towns were decorated with flags to welcome Bulgarian troops today.

M'NARY OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN

Charges New Deal Farm Program Has Not Solved Ills of Agriculture.

By The Associated Press

AURORA, Ill., Sept. 21—Senator Charles L. McNary, in his first major campaign address, charged today that the New Deal found "agriculture ill of a functional disorder" and "made the disorder chronic."

The Oregon senator and Republican nominee for vice president, spoke to a party rally in Exposition park on the outskirts of Aurora, and to a national radio audience.

Says Program Unsuccessful

Announcing that he was speaking as a farmer who worked since childhood on the land his grandfather homesteaded almost a century ago, McNary declared that the farmer had been frozen into a dependence on the government, and added:

"The New Deal, it is true, has kept the farm population off the breadlines. That is not my idea of success. In the seven New Deal years, average farm income per farm has been only $1,124—including benefit payments; in the seven preceding years, it was $1,432.

"In its futile attempt to increase prices by withholding crops from the market, the New Deal now has on hand in government ownership and control 10 million bales of cotton, 500 million bushels of corn and 100 million bushels of wheat. I do not regard that as successful, especially as farm commodity prices on Aug. 1, 1940, were in approximately the same range as on Aug. 1, 1933.

Solution Not Near

"Actually, the basic farm problem is no nearer solution today than it was on March 4, 1933. The New Deal has reached none of its fundamental objectives. Its farm program is a thing of shreds and patches; settling nothing; merely putting off the day of reckoning."

Bricker, Burton To Give Speeches in Marion Oct. 1

Plans were announced today for a countywide Republican rally here Oct. 1 with Gov. Bricker and Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, candidate for U. S. senator, as the principal speakers. Confirmation of the date by the speakers has just been received by French Crow, chairman of the Marion county Republican executive committee.

Gov. Bricker, candidate for re-election, last gave a political address in Marion two years ago when he appeared with Senator Robert A. Taft. Mayor Burton spoke here last spring and has appeared frequently in the past.

The rally will be held at The Star auditorium, starting at 8 p. m. Various local and district candidates will be introduced.

It is not definitely known whether Congressman Smith of Marion will be back in Marion from Washington in time for the rally. He has announced he will stay until congress adjourns.

Although the rally is scheduled as a Marion county rally, the general public from nearby counties is invited.

U. S. GENERAL ABOARD LOST ARMY PLANE

Craft Reported Lost Since Last Night; Other Ships Hunt Southern Area.

By The Associated Press

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 21—An airplane in which Brigadier General Francis W. Honeycutt, commander of Fort Bragg near here, was passenger, has been missing since 7:30 o'clock last night when it was reported over Savannah, Ga., enroute to Jacksonville, Fla.

Lieutenant Col. Earl C. Ewart, public relations officer at Fort Bragg, said that great concern was felt over General Honeycutt's safety.

Five Planes Search

A squadron of five planes left here today at 6:15 a. m., to search the territory between Savannah and Jacksonville, but reported finding no trace of the missing observation plane, which bore besides General Honeycutt, Capt. George F. Kehoe, pilot, and Corporal Robert J. Schnitz.

Adverse weather prevented the searching planes from taking off earlier. They were joined by coast guard planes from Jacksonville and Savannah, Col. Ewart said.

Terraine is Marshy

Col. Ewart said that the terrain between Savannah and Jacksonville over which they were flying was marshy and sparsely populated.

BRICKER OBJECTIONS GET QUICK RESPONSE

New Water and Sewer Systems Planned for Camp.

By The Associated Press

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Sept. 21—Mississippi national guard officers asserted today that new water system would be installed at Camp Shelby, now being prepared for 45,000 guardsmen from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky.

Gov. Bricker of Ohio said yesterday that he would ask Adj. Gen. Gilson D. Light to investigate health conditions at the camp following newspaper reports that the camp's sewer and water systems were 23 years old and of wooden construction.

Approximately 8,500 Ohio national guardsmen have been assigned to Camp Shelby, 12 miles south of here, for a year's training.

Col. Harry Dolton, former housing officer, said at Jackson, Miss., that only satisfactory portions of the old sewer system would be included in the one to be constructed.

Work already has begun on temporary kitchens, mess halls, and other facilities to serve until permanent buildings are completed about Dec. 1.

The camp, built on the site of a great pine forest, was used as a training base for 70,000 soldiers during the World war and has been used annually since 1934 for summer maneuvers.

OHIO ROTC TRAINS OFFICERS FOR ARMY

College Corps Take on Added Importance.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 21—As potential sources of young, trained officers, Ohio colleges are assuming added importance in the eyes of military authorities.

"We expect there will be an intensified desire for Reserve Officers' training corps enrollment this fall," Col. A. L. Fuller, Fifth corps area ROTC director, asserted today.

"The war department has long been conscious of the program's value, and has noted a general trend toward creation of new units," he added. "Greatest interest has been expressed at those schools where the program is elective, rather than compulsory."

Colonel Fuller said additional war department appropriations would be necessary before the ROTC program could be expanded to meet anticipated demands.

"A nationwide survey will be made as soon as all colleges have opened fall terms," Colonel Fuller said. "Findings will be relayed at once to the war department, and additional appropriations may be made within three weeks."

Colonel Fuller said about 6,500 youths were enrolled currently in the Ohio ROTC program. He placed the bulk of these in the senior division—at colleges and universities—with others at "essentially military schools" or high schools and other secondary institutions.

"Enrollment increases will determine the expansion of basic training at schools with compulsory military programs," Colonel Fuller added. "A number of universities have asked permission to enroll more students in the advanced course, but war department appropriations will be essential to such expansion."

Kidnapers Take 93 to 1 Against Death or Penalty

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—The kidnaper, or kidnapers, of 3-year-old Marc De Tristan took a 93 to 1 chance of ending up in prison—or worse.

Since passage of the "Lindbergh" law in 1932, the federal bureau of investigation has probed 187 kidnapings and solved 185. The unsolved cases are those of Charles Mattson, 10, kidnaped at Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 27, 1936, and Peter Levine, 12, New Rochelle, N. Y., seized Feb. 24, 1938. Both boys were slain.

The FBI declined to comment immediately on reports of the De Tristan kidnaping in Hillsborough, Calif., yesterday, but there was no doubt that the G-men were watching developments closely.

In the 185 solved kidnapings, the G-men have gained 167 convictions in which the courts have imposed 12 death sentences; 42 life sentences; 3,052 years in prison; 72 years suspended; 108 years probation, and $84,270 in fines. Only 24 federal kidnap defendants have been acquitted.

CIVILIAN COMMITTEE TO AID WITH DRAFT

President Expected To Name Group Shortly.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 — A civilian advisory committee designed to represent the views of non-military interests in organizing and administering the draft is expected to be named soon by President Roosevelt.

Probably consisting of six members, it will include, informed officials said today, four experts on various phases of conscription who already are working with the army and navy selective service committee on the gigantic task of drawing thousands of men from civilian life into the army.

These four are Frederick Osborne, an expert on statistics, chairman of the group; Col. William Draper, an army reserve officer and former member of the New York investment house of Dillon, Read & Co.; Joseph P. Harris, professor of political science at the University of California, and an expert on elections; and Dr. Floyd W. Reeves, director of the American youth commission.

Meanwhile, in preparation for calling the first contingent of 75,000 conscripts in November, subsequent to registration of all men 21 through 35 Oct. 16, the senate yesterday rushed a $126,263,902 army housing bill through final passage and sent it to the White House. The money will be used to build barracks and other facilities.

CHILD'S SAFETY PUT FIRST BY FBI AND POLICE

Rich Parents Declare Readiness To Meet $100,000 Ransom Demand.

By The Associated Press

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif., Sept. 21—The safety of kidnaped Marc De Tristan Jr., was placed ahead of all other considerations today as the 3-year-old boy's wealthy family uncompromisingly declared its readiness to meet the beak-nosed abductor's $100,000 ransom demand.

FBI agents and local police withdrew from the pretentious De Tristan home in this exclusive little Peninsular community, tucked away in the coastal hills 20 miles south of San Francisco, and gave the family a free hand in establishing contact with the dark-complexioned kidnaper.

In a 600-word, typewritten note dropped where the boy was seized just before noon yesterday, the De Tristans were directed to get in touch with the kidnaper through an advertisement inserted in the advertising section of a San Francisco paper. This was done.

Seized from Nurse

Little Marc, the son of Count and Countess Marc De Tristan and step-grandson of Louis Shattuck Cates, president of the vast Phelps Dodge Corp., was out for an airing in his go-cart, accompanied by his nurse, when the kidnaper drove up in a car and carried him away. The man threatened the nurse with a pistol.

The middle-aged nurse, Mary Foley, was knocked to the ground and painfully bruised when she tried to save the boy. In her futile struggle she knocked off the man's gray hat. It is expected to be a valuable clew.

The chubby, curly-haired lad was speeded away in a dark sedan, pursued ineffectively for some distance by Albert Williams, a Negro chauffeur who drove up just as the kidnaper fled.

The kidnaper was described by Miss Foley as a husky, dark-skinned man with a prominent hook nose, about 48 or 50 years old.

She and the boy were nearly half a mile from the De Tristan home when the man accosted her and asked "Is this the De Tristan child?"

Taken aback by the question, she said "why, yes."

The man pulled a pistol, grabbed the child and started for his car waiting at the curb.

Marc Jr. is fair of complexion, with light brown hair worn in a mass of curls. He wore a sun suit with red, white and blue stripes, and white sandals.

Letter Made Public

Police Chief Claude Hirshey of Hillsboro made contents of the wordy ransom note public immediately after it was turned over to him.

"I believed it possible at that time that officers might apprehend a man without a hat and with a 3-year-old child in the car as described, and because I felt the kidnaper would not retain the child for any length of time, but would kill him, and retain some of his clothes for identification so ransom could be collected," Chief Hirshey said.

With the note was a piece of cardboard, which the De Tristans were told to retain for identification in future contacts. The kidnaper said if the family was willing to meet the demands it was to insert in the automobile section of the San Francisco Examiner, the following advertisement:

"Lincoln Zephyr—four door de luxo sedan. Radio. Many extras. Beautiful light grey finish. $[illegible] Cash only. Box (insert [illegible]) E.X.T."

Cates, who with his wife came here for the recent marriage of the countess' brother, Charles Christenson, was taking an active part in arranging to comply with the kidnaper's wishes. He told newsmen:

Law Withholds Action

"We have requested all law enforcement agencies to withhold any action in this case until we have complied with any and all requests of the man who has our child."

The socially prominent and wealthy De Tristan family has an estate in France, which, before the war, they used to visit annually. Their Hillsborough home is an

Eruptions and Clothing

What skin eruptions are caused by clothing?

Since the relationship between skin eruptions and dress goods was suggested by our friends, the allergists, some years ago, these conditions are becoming more frequently recognized. These allergic eczematous forms of dermatitis are due to hypersensitiveness toward simple non-protein chemicals. They have no association with common forms of allergy and no tendency of familial occurrence.

The picture is so uniform that inspection alone furnishes the clue to the cause. This eczema affects middle-aged women who generally are overweight and perspire excessively. The use of deodorants and depilatories or scratches from shaving are contributing factors. The skin around the armpits and the lower part of the neck is most often affected—practically always the skin from the waist up. Dyes are responsible in most cases, but it is not possible to predict what dyes will affect any considerable group. One dye is just as likely to affect a certain individual as another.

In women who are very sensitive, patch tests of a dress material may have to be made before a purchase is safe. A patch test is made by placing the suspected material on the intact skin and holding it there with adhesive for a few hours. If the individual is sensitive to that material an eruption appears at the point of contact.

Treatment of dress dermatitis is very satisfactory. Simple antiitching lotions or ointments will cure the eruption. Care in selecting non-irritating dress goods will prevent recurrences.

Public Worship Service

A Sermonette

By REV. J. A. CARRIKER

Pastor, Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church.

* * *

MR. AND MRS AMERICA, and all their young Americas are doing themselves and their country a great harm when they keep themselves away from the public worship of God. Our country was born in the atmosphere and the spirit of public worship. Our forefathers knew the value of public worship, and were faithful in attendance. Unitedly they anchored America to God. Those who desert public worship today are lifting that anchor.

Public worship is presenting yourself to God, heart-to-heart with your fellow-Americans. Can you not see the great value of united expression of faith in God?

Praise and thanksgiving characterize all true worship. Public worship is the only opportunity which American citizens have of uniting their hearts in praise and gratitude to God. Who can sing with his fellow countrymen, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," and not have his heart inspired to finer living?

Public worship also means talking to God with others. Praying with others is a never-ending source of power.

Public worship also gives us an opportunity to bring an offering of our material possessions for the express purpose of furthering the cause of Christianity.

Public worship is more than going to church to hear a sermon, although this is an essential feature of it. Where is there a soul who can not be helped by listening to the great truths of the Gospel of Christ?

Last, but not least, there is the blessing of Christian fellowship. It is a family gathering—the family of God. When the family of God meets around their Heavenly Father, it is good for each member of the family to be present.

The Stars Say—

For Sunday, Sept. 22

Sunday's horoscope holds much encouragement for not only conventional Sabbath activities and interests but also for dealing with superiors, employers or those in authority. It is opportune time for seeking promotions, favors or honors. But in other directions, especially relations between elders and women, the signs are not auspicious. Be cautious with writings of all natures.

Those whose birthday it is should have an encouraging year, with definite prospect for promotions, favors, tokens of preferment and esteem. Otherwise the auguries are not so favorable, especially for the feminine element or in social or domestic affairs.

A child born on this day may be talented and ambitious, rising to fine place in the esteem of its superiors and employers. It may attain public position.

For Monday, Sept. 23

Monday's astrological forecast is for a particularly lively and pleasant day, with all things, business and private, moving at swift tempo. All of a cultural and intellectual nature is encouraged, with the aims and aspirations of the young and romantic flourishing. Pleasure, courtship, perhaps marriage, are among the predictions.

Those whose birthday it is are assured of a lively, pleasant and productive year, in business, speculation, writings, art—any line of creative effort. In private life—much pleasant experience courtship and for the eligible, marriage. But shun extravagances and impetuosities.

A child born on this day may be exceedingly versatile and talented making a success of almost any creative or cultural work.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TOPIC FOR SUNDAY ANNOUNCED

The Golden Text for the services Sunday at the First Church of Christ Scientist will be taken from I John, 5:21. "Little children, keep yourselves from idols." Passages from the Christian Science textbook will be as follows: "The human mind has been an idolater from the beginning, having other gods and believing in more than one Mind. As mortals do not comprehend even mortal existence, how ignorant must they be of the all-knowing Mind of His creations. We bow down to matter and entertain finite thoughts of God like the pagan idolater. Mortals are inclined to fear and to obey what they consider a material body more than they do a spiritual God."

AREA CATTLE GROUP FORMED

Ayrshire Owners in Marion, Hardin and Wyandot Counties Organize.

Formation of an organization known as the Tri-County Ayrshire Breeders association, open to Marion, Wyandot and Hardin county persons interested in Ayrshire cattle, was announced today at the office of E. C. Sleeth, Marion county rural rehabilitation supervisor for the farm security administration.

The Tri-county group is the outgrowth of a cooperative breeders association formed earlier this year in northwestern Marion county. This early association is still operating smoothly and will continue to do so, the new association not conflicting with it in any way.

Officers of the tri-county group, elected early this month, are Clarence E. Lightfoot, president; Milford Shuster, vice president, and Raymond James, secretary-treasurer.

Purposes of the group are to promote the Ayrshire breed of cattle, noted for its milk production ability, and to promote good dairy management and practices; to cooperate with the Ohio Ayrshire Breeders association in all its purposes by applying for membership in the state group and by taking part in other activities of the state group.

At the organization meeting, Truman Romig, president of the state group, reviewed the objectives of the state association and how the tri-county group could work in.

The cooperative association formed several months ago now has two cooperatively-owned purebred Ayrshire bulls which serve the members' herds.

Members of the cooperative group, who form the nucleus of the tri-county association, are: Leslie O. Baker, Dale Warner, Raymond James, Hoyt C. Leeth, Clarence E. Lightfoot, Harold O. Ricer, Milford Shuster, E. W. Virden and Omar D. Warner and L. Hoyt Buckingham.

The new association has extended an invitation for others interested in Ayrshire cattle to join.

INCOME FROM STOCK TO BE HIGHER IN 1941

Price Increase To Offset Decrease in Animal Units.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—The agriculture department predicted today that livestock farmers would receive a larger cash income from meat animals in 1941 than in 1940 despite prospects that they will have fewer to sell.

Livestock numbers on next Jan. 1, the department said, will be between 3 and 4 per cent less than a year earlier, on an animal unit basis. A decrease in hogs, it added, will more than offset an increase in cattle.

As a consequence, slaughter supplies will be smaller. With consumer demand expected to be greater than this year due to spending effects of the national defense program, prices can be expected, the department said, to average higher. The expected price increase, it added, would more than offset the reduction in supplies in determining income from livestock.

The department said cattle numbers probably would increase in the next few years, while hog numbers may fluctuate around the level of the past two years.

COURT PUTS CIRCLES BACK ON BALLOTS

Rules Against Neffner on Change in Form.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 21 — Ohio voters may register their preference for president and vice president by placing a cross mark within the circle provided for the political party of their choice on the ballot.

The Ohio supreme court, overruling Secretary of State George N. Neffner, ordered the circles printed on the ballot yesterday.

Because of recent separation of state and national ballots by the state legislature, Neffner had ordered circles placed above party columns on the state ballot only.

The court, acting at the request of Charles Sawyer, Democratic national committeeman, held that the ballot separation law "did not directly or by implication repeal the express provisions" of a statute requiring a circle at the head of party column ballots.

Sawyer had contended that the absence of circles on the presidential ballot would be "misleading."

The suit of Locke Miller of Youngstown contesting the renomination of Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, Democrat, in the 19th district was dismissed by the court.

Chief Justice Carl M. Weygandt said he could not substantiate Miller's accusation that Kirwan won the nomination through corrupt politics. The court also dismissed an affidavit accusing Joseph Rendinell, Youngstown court bailiff, of assaulting Miller and his wife with a blackjack.

The court upheld constitutionality of a law permitting incumbents to seek reelection as probate judge even though they are not lawyers. The court ruled against Joseph W. Lippincott of Wilmington who challenged the right of Hugh J. Wright, Clinton county probate judge, to run for reelection.

DELAWARE FAIR HEARS BRICKER

Assails Methods of Davey and New Deal; Calls for Support of Willkie.

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 21—"If we in this country are permitted to pay attention to the building of a better nation there is no limit to what can be done for the good of the people," Governor John W. Bricker told thousands of persons gathered at the Delaware county fairgrounds yesterday for the closing day of the 1940 exposition. By the end of the day fair officials expected the attendance would pass the record mark of 9,000, set on Thursday.

Speaking on the improvement of agriculture, Governor Bricker declared that industry and agriculture are today joining together to produce the things which the people need, want and enjoy. He termed the Delaware county fair one of the most outstanding among the 90 held in the state and said that such expositions "serve as an inspiration to boys and girls to give of their time in raising of crops and livestock, making for better living."

"The Davey rackets" were scored by the governor in an address given at a luncheon preceding his short speech at the fairgrounds.

"If we ever get the Davey debt paid off, Ohio can settle down to concentration on improved services and a reduction in taxes," he told the state and county Republican leaders and Kiwanis club members at the luncheon.

Terming Wendell Willkie's speech this week in Los Angeles "the best yet," Gov. Bricker said he would make any sacrifice to help the entire Republican ticket win the election this fall.

"Four more years of the inefficiencies and experimentation of the present national administration and this nation will have wandered so far from its constitutional moorings that it can never return in our lifetime," he declared. He cited savings of his administration in every department and said, "The 10 per cent collectors are gone from High street and they are gone for good."

Among high Republican state and national officials who were guests at the fair were State Treasurer and Mrs. Don Ebright; State Highway Director Robert S. Beightler; J. Perry Shumaker, division engineer in the state highway department; Director of Agriculture John T. Brown; Judge Gilbert Bettman of the Ohio supreme court; Congressman and Mrs. J. Harry McGregor; Judge Clyde Sherrick of the court of appeals and Edward Hummel of Cincinnati, candidate for secretary of state.

An amateur show and a program by a double quartet from the girls' industrial school were features of the closing program last night, following the last afternoon of Grand Circuit harness racing.

Bernell Hansel, president of the 1940 junior fair, was awarded a trophy by the First National bank of Delaware for "the most worthy" accomplishment of any boy or girl at the fair. The award was made immediately before the Thursday night horse show.

George Hansel, a brother, was awarded the saddle mare offered by James Ross of Rossmoor farm to the Delaware county youth who placed highest in a competitive test given this week by Dr. Carl W. Gay of Ohio State university.

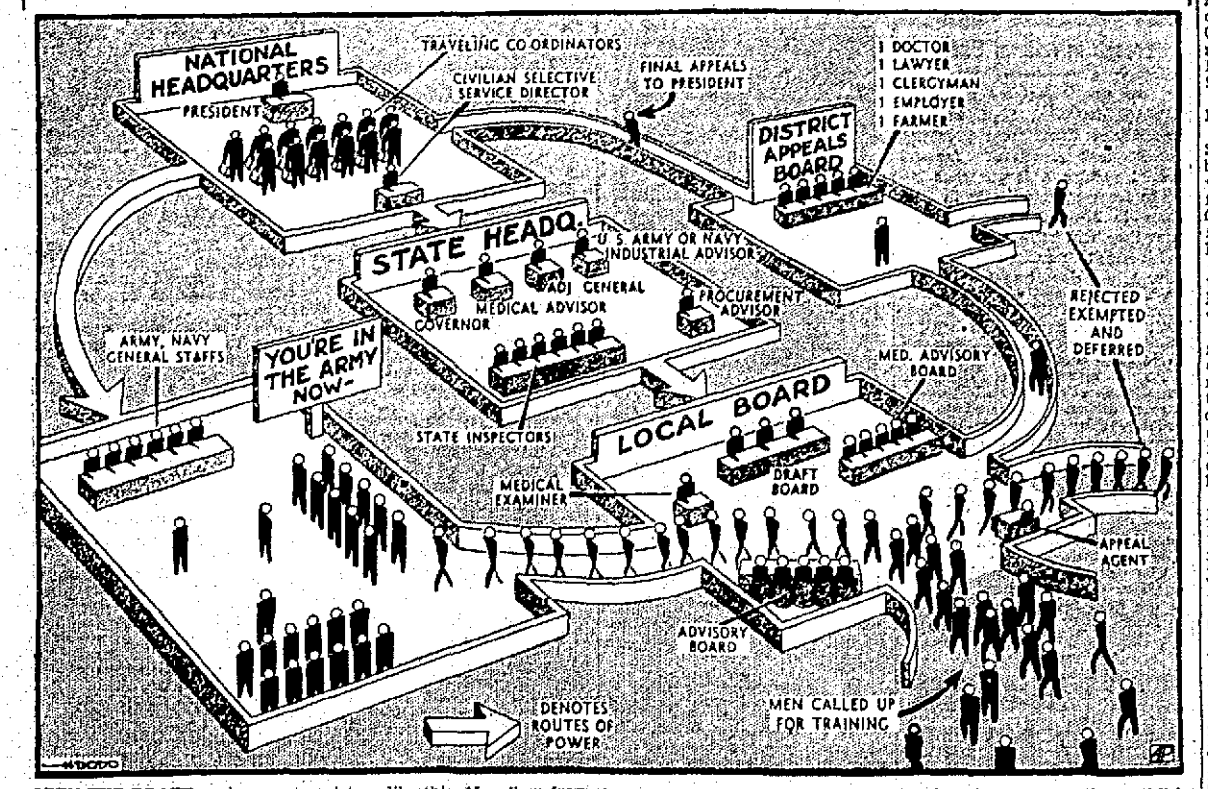
The Draft and You

Draft "Daddy" Calls Local Boards the Key



OPEN THE DRAFT, and you get a picture like this. Men flow from local draft boards to the Army (and to the Navy if it needs them.) and appeals flow to appeal boards, to the President if necessary. Go-betweens are state governors. Most powerful units are the local boards.

This is the second of two Associated Press articles in the conscription program and how it will operate.

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — In the records over at the war department he's Lieut. Col. V. J. O'Kelliher, special reserve, technical adviser, joint army and navy selective service committee.

But by friends, bubbling Victor O'Kelliher is regarded, practically, as the daddy of the 1940 model of the draft. Not the AUTHOR, mind you. Hundreds of experts were the authors. But he umpired the complicated game of revising the World war draft.

Victor O'Kelliher went through the World war draft from local board (Oconto, Wis., population 5,000); up through the state and national system. He's the only man alive who did that. He's sixty-ish and a lawyer.

Twelve years ago he was the first civilian advisor the army and navy committee called in. Since 1937 he's devoted all his time to draft system.

The draft, says Colonel O'Kelliher, must be simple and fair.

The World war draft assured fairness in calling up men by the double shuffle system. They're using that again. It also put all the original decisions in the hands of the local boards. The new 1940 model does that, too.

Married Men Deferred

Most touchy of all questions during the World war draft was the deferment of young married men or men supporting relatives.

What about that today?

"Every local board assuredly will base its decisions on the old experience," says Victor O'Kelliher. "After a lot of backing and filling, it was generally decided at the time of the World war to go on the principle that marriage and the home are the heart of civilization.

COMMANDER B. J. KILLMASTER, chairman of the joint Army - Navy selective service committee which built the draft system.

"So we can assume that married men will not be called up as a matter of principle."

As for self-supporting, or wealthy wives who are childless, the local board could decide to hold special hearings. Odds are about 2 to 1 that men married 10 days before the present conscription law was signed will be deferred, especially those whose wives can prove they had planned the marriage a long time. The decisions will be up to the local board.

No Groups Favored

During the World war, the next most ticklish problem was industrial and agricultural deferment, which resulted in the troublesome "work or fight" order.

This time no groups will be deferred, no single industry will be dubbed "non-productive."

Take a man claiming deferment because he mixes lipstick formulae in a cosmetic establishment. The local board might confer with an army industrial advisor and decide that the desire of women for cosmetics is a matter of national interest. Or it might give the employer six months to get another lipstick mixer.

To help with these problems, an auxiliary advisory system has been provided.

The army will send an industrial expert to advise with each governor on industrial problems. In seacoast states, the navy will send one.

System of Appeals

The governors will arrange appeal districts, usually areas covering every 600,000 people. The President will appoint a physician, a lawyer, a laboring man, an employer, and a farmer to each district appeal board, on the recommendation of the governor. Men who differ with the decisions of their local boards can appeal to the district boards. Likewise, a government appeal agent attached to a local board will appeal any decision the government doesn't agree with. Final appeal can be taken to the President in certain exceptional cases.

Then there'll be 13 or more federal co-ordinators attached to the national office. They'll try to keep the system uniform all over the country.

"In the final analysis, however," says Victor O'Kelliher, "it'll all be up to the local board."

Position A-1 on Taxes

OHIO Republicans couldn't stand by silently while Martin L. Davey kidded voters about repealing the sales tax. In their platform they promise no new or increased taxes, which doesn't begin to be a match for the Davey deception but partakes of the same general idea.

Position A-1 on taxes for political parties is to be reassuring. Position A-1 on appropriations is to be reassuring. A good politician never boasts of voting No for an expenditure or Yes for a tax bill. The old ideas die hard, but they are doomed.

Americans as a whole have been fooled into thinking the government can hand out, as Mr. Willkie puts it, a candy stick to everybody without collecting an ever-increasing amount of taxes to buy the candy. There is nothing so certain as the fact taxes will rise constantly for years to come—to pay for increasing expenditures, or if expenditures can be held down, to pay for the deficit spending of the last three quarters of a decade.

Neglected Fall

THE habit of treating fall like a stepchild and saving praise for fickle spring deserves to be uprooted, but won't be despite constant registration of complaints. This year, more than usual it seems, there is a dull, burning resentment of neglect; it is as though many thought fall might never to be the same again.

Certainly it brings the finest mid-days, the mellowest afternoons, the most merciful evenings and the most bracing mornings of the year. Its nights are beyond criticism in all respects, and its scenery has no rival. Fall is the full season.

It is the scenery, perhaps, that checks the ready praise which comes to the lips of those who love fall best. They are reluctant to form a seasonal liaison with a beauty who, in the nature of things, must break their hearts. Fall is maturity, and tomorrow will be gone. With spring, it's different. Everybody knows that spring is going to grow up some day into summer; there's always one more tomorrow with spring.

Nevertheless, there's something to be said publicly for fall, if only in behalf of those who would like to say it themselves, except it would make them sad, like poets—and there's enough sadness in the world already.

News!

"WHEN a Democrat deserts to Willkie," said the editor, pulling at his glossy black beard, "it's not news. It has happened too often. It's like a dog biting a man. But if a Republican deserted to Roosevelt, that would be news." The editor licked his feverish lips at the prospect of finding some real news.

Unfortunately, Mayor LaGuardia is not a Republican. For many years he has been Independent. As mayor of New York City he has been a New Deal sympathizer, in the sense that he always played ball with the source of PWA and WPA money.

When it was announced he was going to announce which presidential candidate he favored, using radio time paid for by the Democratic national committee, the suspense was not simply terrific. He had recently been appointed chairman of the U. S. section of the American-Canadian defense board by President Roosevelt. Was it possible the Democratic committee would pay for radio time to let Mayor LaGuardia announce that after mature consideration he had decided to vote for Wendell L. Willkie?

No, kiddies, it wasn't possible. Mayor LaGuardia has made no news.

Measle Catchers

AS though to chide busy men who have worse things in store for children and adults these days than measles, two doctors at the bicentennial conference of University of Pennsylvania reported important progress in controlling that rampant affliction.

The story of their measle catching, a welcome change from war, can't be told without mentioning that measles caused many deaths in this country's World war army, but otherwise it's the same old account of patient men trying to impose a civilization which other men, less patient, are trying to destroy.

Prof. Joseph Stokes Jr. of University of Pennsylvania medical school and Dr. Geoffrey Rake of Squibb Institute for Medical Research produced a vaccine which produced in their experiments a light case of measles, thus developing immunity. After careful trials on larger groups of children, they now are ready to submit their findings to medical practitioners and producers of medical supplies. In half a century, perhaps, there will exist a generation most of whose members can say of measles, as most persons now living can say of smallpox, "Oh that is almost unheard of now."

News Behind the News

New Deal Spenders Hold Quiet Meeting with Bankers; More Spending Expected.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21—The wild men's branch of the New Deal met with the savings bank branch of the wolves of Wall Street in a generally unadvertised economic discussion at a downtown hotel this week, and no one was even scratched.

Administration economists, with their latest theories from all walks of the spending life, paraded to the rostrum to show the bankers there were no rings in their noses. As Jerome Frank, the securities exchange commission chairman, explained it at one point: "We are not revolutionaries; we are just trying to help America."

Paul Mallon

The wolves, representing various other phases of substantial industry outside banking, joined in the agreeable discussion that agreed on nothing. A banker finally assured the gathering that "the charge that the New Dealers are against capitalism is completely unwarranted."

Yet when the economic pleasantries were over and the meeting adjourned, the bankers went back to New York with the surprising guess that another new government spending program is to be piled on top the peak of the colossal expenditure for national defense. Not directly from things said on the rostrum, but from information they picked up in town, they suspected a new housing program is in the making. A plan utilizing federal funds for the construction of workers' homes in the new decentralized industrial area is certainly in the process of inner formation. It would entail large sums for the interior district between the Rockies and Appalachians, north of Memphis—sometimes known as the Willkie area.

Tame Till Election

The economic animal fair nevertheless furnished convincing proof that the wild men are to be reasonably tame until after election at least. New Deal assurances were given industry that price controls will not be attempted by the national defense commission until the unemployed are absorbed, idle plant capacity is working and a "bidding-up" era seems in the offing. Priorities for government orders are not even to be pressed actively. These assurances came from no less an authority than Mr. Roosevelt's defense price commissioner, Leon Henderson, who is reported to enjoy now the fullest confidence of Messrs. Knudsen and Stettinius, the industrialists on the defense commission.

Defense of Spending

Main theme of the New Dealer's presentation, however, was a defense of spending money treasury does not have—not just spending what is raised by taxation because that does no "good" under the Keynes-Eccles theory, but inflationary spending based on treasury borrowing. It seemed to some the New Dealers were trying to prove the defense program will do no permanent damage to the nation's economic structure, but they did not make entirely clear what is to be done to prevent a collapse when it is stopped. The only thing they succeeded in showing conclusively is that this nation as well as the rest of the world is being pushed along an inevitable road by irresistible events. If the New Dealers wanted to claim some pleasant, even though temporary inflation prospects out of the defense program, no one was inclined to think about the long run because defense had to be accomplished anyway.

The day after the discussion, the treasury announced that the public debt had already reached nearly $45,000,000,000.

Morgenthau Pushed

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau was pushed around severely in an executive tax session of the senate financing committee, the proceedings of which have not been made public. One committeeman described it as the severest pummeling a cabinet officer has received from a congressional committee. The committee even declined the secretary the courtesy of a 15 minute adjournment he requested to make changes in his own observations to conform with those of a subordinate (John J. Sullivan).

The trouble started when Morgenthau was required to justify the treasury's stand for a 4.1 per cent penalty of the capitalization alternative in the excess profits tax. Neither he nor his department seemed to the committee to have the facts and figures at hand to support the penalty, and committeemen let their angers rise.

Campaign Smearing Called Dangerous in Time of World Crisis.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

AN ELECTION campaign at the climax of the greatest crisis of modern times is not an ordinary election campaign. For in the ordinary campaign the fighting words of the candidates and the smearing operations of their henchmen leave no lasting effect. The very fact that the times are ordinary and that the issues are not critical causes the campaign rhetoric to be forgotten. The extravagance of the ins who point with pride and of the outs who view with alarm is part of the ritual, and it is not taken too seriously. But in extraordinary times the foibles of democracy may become deadly vices.

The tendency of all elections is to degrade the discussion of issues as the excitement of the conflict rises. For each side, having gathered in all the voters who support it by conviction, begins to reach out for the cynical, the ignorant, and the unstable voters. This is the dangerous phase of an election campaign. For in this phase the temptation becomes greater and greater to ignore the sensible voters who are already committed and perhaps equally divided and to try to catch hold of the more or less lunatic fringe.

It is at this point that partisans are under tremendous pressure to indulge in one or both of the great democratic vices: first, to evade, avoid, and confuse the issues, and to conceal from the people their real views on the questions of the hour; second, to attack the opposition with charges, allegations, and innuendo which, if they are believed, must seriously hinder, no matter who wins the election, the return to national unity.

Unrestrained Smearing

In extraordinary times like these the unrestrained reciprocal smearing is a grave disservice to the nation. For one of the smeared candidates will be the next President in the gravest period of our history and the other smeared candidate will be the leader of the opposition. We simply cannot afford to have them become irreconcilable personal enemies, each leading violently suspicious factions among the people. This sort of thing just will not do now.

After the election is over, and would to heaven it were over, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie are not only going to have to get on together but they are going to have to work together, as Hamilton and Jefferson, who had such differing conceptions of government, worked together in the administration of George Washington. For the things on which they differ are trivial as compared with the things on which they are going to have to agree. We cannot for a moment forget this: what this country is facing is a condition, moreover, which will require decision, measures, policies that are not accounted for and are not anticipated in either platform, in the past records and the past political beliefs of either Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Willkie.

Both men know this. In this respect the country is unusually fortunate. It might easily have been otherwise. But the political managers and political manipulators do not know this, and both men will be pushed, in fact are being pushed, down the slippery slope where in their hearts and consciences they know they should resist being pushed.

Specific Danger

The specific danger of the present campaign arises out of the fact that each candidate is trusted by an important part of the people and distrusted by another important part of the people. Mr. Willkie has and Mr. Roosevelt does not have the confidence of most of the industrial executives and of the people with property investments. Mr. Roosevelt, on the other hand, does have the confidence of large masses of workingmen and of humble men and women. These are facts, unpleasant facts, but facts which the serious voter will bear in mind. And these facts, I submit, must lead him to the conclusion that campaign tactics which deepen and embitter this cleavage in the nation are utterly and absolutely deplorable. For once the election is over, the supreme desideratum will be to undo the mischief of irreconcilable division which the election has brought—if Mr. Willkie wins, by having Mr. Roosevelt help him to gain the confidence of Mr. Roosevelt's supporters, and if the President is reelected, by having Mr. Willkie help him to arrive at a loyal and cheerful basis of understanding with the people who are the sources of Mr. Willkie's strength.

For these reasons we have to measure our words, and subject our instinctive partisanship in a hot fight to restraints and renunciations which are irksome, thankless and, perhaps, unnatural.

We cannot afford to smear Mr. Willkie as a heartless reactionary or Mr. Roosevelt as the leader of a subversive conspiracy against American institutions. It is not the truth about either man, and it does not become the truth by pretending that some incident, some incipient tendency, some "evidence" dug out of a file, some faintly analogous symptom, is proof of the charge. Campaigning of that sort is out of bounds in this terrible hour, and the people of this country, who will pay the price of national disunion, should resent with a fierce impartiality all political practices which tend to make the conflict irreconcilable and to unvenom the legitimate differences between the two American parties and the two American candidates.

The Republican View

While Jack Stinnett, who writes "Washington Daybook," is on vacation, the space usually devoted to his column will be made available to the two major parties for a pro-and-con presentation of an agreed list of political subjects. Representative from Pennsylvania and member house WPA investigating committee.

WASHINGTON—Politics in relief and federal employment agencies again raises its ugly head in this election year 1940, as it did in 1936 and 1938.

With the opening of the campaign, July WPA rolls began to mount. Each successive week showed progressive increases, the total for the month reaching 89,000. And this was in the face of increased industrial activity and announcements from the Department of Labor that private employment was expanding.

Notwithstanding vast appropriations for defense resulting in many new jobs, relief rolls continued to increase in August and remain at virtually the same high level. Under the Hatch Act, persons receiving incomes from the federal government are debarred from political activity. There is nothing in the law to prevent government agencies padding the relief rolls for political support.

New Deal relief is a standing record of scandal and extravagance. Congressional investigations, dominated by Democratic members, have exposed the unscrupulous exploitation of the needy on WPA rolls in a dozen states. Since 1933 the federal government has expended more than 15 billion dollars for relief. During each of the last two years the total cost of relief was nearly three times that in 1933, yet the number of persons receiving relief payments in the latter years was actually less than in 1933.

THE inefficiency of the relief system, the billions wasted on frivolous and unnecessary projects is only equalled by the futile attempts of the administration to reduce unemployment. During seven years of the New Deal 18 per cent of the labor force of the nation has been unemployed, as compared with an annual average of 7.2 per cent during the 12 years, 1921-32 period under Republicans, a period with two depressions.

No Republican, no American, favors permitting those who are unemployed through no fault of their own to suffer. But practical experience has demonstrated that with federal assistance the states and local communities can administer relief more equitably and more reasonably than when it is distributed by a vast federal machine. This federal machine has great political power, however, and nothing will induce the New Deal to relinquish control over relief expenditures.

J. W. DITTER

The administration attitude toward relief is similar to its position on other subjects. Relief is treated as an end in itself, rather than as a temporary measure against the time when every willing worker shall have a real job. If you do not believe in the form of political relief from Washington, the New Dealers proclaim you are opposed to relief—you would let the unemployed starve. It is a favorite New Deal subterfuge that passes for argument—if you object to a radical or wasteful method of achieving a desirable objective, you are opposed to the objective itself.

Relief is a present necessity and will continue to be until the situation which requires this artificial system is cured. This cannot be done by wasteful spending of borrowed money. It can only be accomplished by a restoration of the balanced economic life of the nation. The New Deal experiments, influenced by a group of radical thinkers about the executive, have stalled investment and industrial activity. Capital has been frightened into hiding and business intimidated by administration antagonism and the arbitrary rule of Washington bureaucrats.

THE solution of the unemployment problem, the burden of relief, the restoration of industrial activity, and prosperity for the farmer, are all closely related

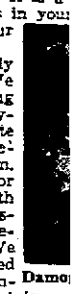
Anti-Exercise

It's All Right To Toughen Nation But Personally It Us To Think of the Job.

By DAMON RUNY

JACK KELLY, the old Olympic scull pion and Democratic leader of Ph is fixing with the government to toug citizens of the United States by m thenics. We have no idea how they to work it out but we think it is a for you fellows with bundles in you hot water bags under your eyes.



We do not intend personally to engage in the program. We see no reason for toughening up now. We are not going anywhere. However, we are quite willing to assist in the movement with advice and criticism. That was our function for many years in connection with various forms of mass calisthenics called football, baseball, boxing, and rowing. We were a sports writer. We used to sit in the press box as comfortable as you please and advise ar like anything.

We never played baseball. We but it tired us plumb out. Even watc ball tired us one year. That was th traveled with the New York Yank Wild Bill Donovan. It tired Bill, too. lacking in practical experience, we c theless sit there in the press box an player on how to perform his cali first or second or third base, or in position. If he failed to do it the wa we would give him plenty of helpfu the next day.

WE learned that baseball players ingly ungrateful and unresponsi structive criticism. One time we criti Ruth severely for failing to perform thenics in right field in what we d orthodox manner. We said Donovan, it was Miller Huggins by then—ough Babe off for a plug of chewing tobacc right field vacant. We said that vacan still be as well filled as it was with there.

Nor were we at first quite happy ab calisthenics up at the plate. We point his batting stance was all wrong an should choke his hickory instead of at the extreme little end. We suppose little drastic with Babe, but in those d was one thing we took seriously it wa thenics of baseball.

Finally one day Babe called arou press box and wanted to take us o and see if he could bat us over the wall with a fungo stick. He said he on with Ping Bodie that he could d quired all the persuasive powers o Geehan to convince Babe this would ardous experiment. Bill pointed out might accidentally hit us on the head the fungo stick. Good fungo sticks we in those days.

AFTER that we never again gave the benefit of our advice or cr just let him go on performing his to suit himself, but always with the q reservation that he could not possib were right. After 15 years or so they charge him. And let us tell you som After considering the matter all thes have come to the conclusion that Bab have batted us as far as second bas over the right field wall.

We are a little curious as to the of mass calisthenics Jack Kelly ha We imagine it would be along the setting up exercises employed in the practiced, we are informed, in som o' mornings by persons who take tha from radio instructors. We would no radio system to toughen up our c general. We understand it permits ch solitaire.

And we must advise President Ro to attempt to make mass calisthenics issue. After all, some consideratio given the tired voter of which we a sentative. We would not hustle to t cast our untrammeled ballot for a n going to make us bend up and dow one-two, and sideways, when just th of shaving exhausts us for hours.

WE would be more inclined to voi dell Willkie, who is openly anti- at least as far as he is personally And we certainly do not think that fine fellow that he is, should have an to say about the form of the mass Jack would want to have everybody around in little canoes, and we are of that sculling would scarcely fit all the nation.

Before withdrawing from the scene last night FBI agents and local police questioned a number of persons who had seen the kidnaping or gotten a glimpse of the car as it sped away

He had the baby in his arms and shoved the baby in the car ahead of him as he jumped through the door on the driver's seat. It happened as quick as you could snap your fingers'

Police considered it probable the kidnaper had made a careful study of the neighborhood learning that the nurse and boy frequently went for walks along that street

Acting Captain of Inspectors Michael Mitchell of the San Francisco police thought the kidnaping was the work of an amateur Supporting this theory, he said were the following observations

1 The kidnaper allowed the maid to get a good look at him

2 He failed to cover or remove the license plates on the car he used

3 He intended to hand the note to the maid, instead of mailing it.

Spain Probably Joined With Axis at Rome Parley

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Spain's adherence to the Berlin-Rome axis—perhaps in a passive role—is widely believed to have been one result of the axis conference just concluded in Rome.

The purpose of such an arrangement would be to give more leverage from which to pry the British empire loose from its foundations. John Bull's strength of resistance and counter-attack is causing furrows in the brows of his enemies

This is a move which I should say Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini would have preferred to avoid—the admittance of a third partner to the anticipated profits of the firm. Still, observers generally have been expecting it as a logical development of this very critical moment in the European war.

Outcome Known Soon

The ultimate outcome of this war is to my mind going to be determined in the very near future The conflict may drag on indefinitely, but we always shall be pretty sure who the winner will be

The axis conference was the outgrowth of this crisis. Hitler and Mussolini had two grave issues to consider

1 The inability of Germany to crush England quickly as Hitler had planned.

2 Mussolini's need of assistance in his campaign to try to break the British control of the Mediterranean.

And the solution of both these vital problems hinges on the finding of some way to break the British control of the seven seas and that terrific naval blockade which is ever tightening about the Nazi-Fascist allies.

Spain enters into the picture because of its vast strategic importance as an instrument with which to attack the British naval domination. You don't even have to glance at your maps to recall that the geographical position of Spain and its Moroccan possession just across the narrow strait of Gibraltar would make it the natural guardian of the western entrance to the Mediterranean but for one thing—Britain's possession of the fortress of Gibraltar and the naval base up against the big rock

Franco Looks Ahead

Hitler and Mussolini figure that if they can blast England out of Gibraltar and establish their own bases on the strait, they will have gone far towards wrecking Britain's control and so cutting her main imperial artery Such an operation, however would involve the cooperation of Spain, at least to the extent of granting the axis powers the privilege of operating from Spanish soil

But Spanish Generalissimo Franco isn't casting his lot with the axis for nothing If his cooperation was indeed determined upon at the conference, then we have a right to assume that the parley also fixed the price—probably an extension of Spain's African possessions and the return of Gibraltar

BODY OF SINGER'S SLAYER IS FOUND

Discovered Near Scene of Woman's Murder.

By The Associated Press

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 21—The body of Sylvester Dellear, 51, sought since yesterday in connection with the slaying of Miss Madeline Clark, 44-year-old Lenox choir singer, was found today in the same reservoir where her remains were uncovered

Miss Clark's body was found floating in the reservoir yesterday—just a month prior to her scheduled marriage to another man

State police broadcast a call for the arrest of Dellear, "for questioning on a murder case" after Medical Examiner George S. Wickham pronounced the attractive paper mill clerk a victim of "murder." Her head bore three gashes.

Assistant District Attorney Harold R Goewey said he had been informed that Miss Clark was escorted by Dellear when she left choir practice at St. Helena's chapel in nearby Lenox on Thursday night, Goewey described the escort as married and estranged from his wife

A bloodstained automobile identified by Police Lieutenant John F Horrigan as belonging to Dellear, and a bloody hammer, were found on the edge of the reservoir

Horrigan said Lane Fyler, 45, had told him that he and she had intended to marry next month. Horrigan quoted Fyler as saying he had asked her to 'break the news gently to Dellear'

BURTON INTERVIEW ARGUES AGAINST 3RD TERM

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept 21—Mayor Harold H Burton, in his campaign for U S Senator, takes the stand that business reasoning should preclude reelection of President Roosevelt and no one should have a third presidential term because he might not live through it

Dr Ernest Hatch Wilkins, president of Oberlin college, drew those statements from Burton, a Republican, in an interview broadcast last night by seven Ohio radio stations.

Gov John W. Bricker told an audience at the Ohio grape festival in Sandusky that "revival of a spirit of self-help is necessary before achieving economic recovery."

Bricker said he was working with other governors to break down trade barriers but would "not let California bring its grapes and grape products into Ohio and claim them to be superior to Ohio products"

MEMORY OF THE MOON

CHAPTER 32

Field Of Scarlet

"YET you're sorry, in a way, that Taylor didn't sell?" asked John

I'm sorry because, aside from me no one wants this ranch as passionately as he does Yet, I'd sooner lose it fighting, than have someone else save it for me," Constance said

Raskthorne shook his head "There's only one like you, Conchita All right, dear, I'll stand by Good luck '

"Constance talked to Meg that afternoon because she had telephoned the commissary that she must have butter "Immaydiately" No boy being present, Constance took it to the manager's house, carefully going to the kitchen door

'Come in," ordered Meg fretfully

She was making cinnamon rolls She flattened the raised dough with a malicious motion of the pin, dusted it with sugar and cinnamon then began dotting it with butter

"I have to find something that fool boy will eat, she complained "Off his feed he is, for the farst time since his mither died"

Constance sat on a high stool as Meg rolled the dough "Hope you'll look in on Peter while I'm away," she said

"Where are you going?"

"San Francisco,' answered Meg Didn't you know? Pedro is drivin' your sister down I go along as chaperon"

Constance clutched the stool The kitchen was spinning around dizzily The stove stood on its pipe, the ceiling was where the floor should be Pedro had asked her to go to San Francisco once with Meg as a chaperon, for the three days which must elapse between filing of intention to wed and the wedding

"H-how long," stammered Constance, "will you be away?"

Meg slapped the ribboned rolls into a pan "Three days," she said "I'll be comin' home alone on the train If you're to, be in Beachport that day, I'm hopin' ye'll pick me up"

In the time it took Meg to put cinnamon rolls into a pan and slide them into the oven Constance reviewed her future One of two things marriage to John, weighted down with his kindness, passively accepting his wealth until her spirit curdled within her, or an emaciated spinster, brightly coy, selling dove-cotes to prospective newly-weds.

"There, now" Meg straightened up from the oven, dusted her hands and smiled at Constance "I'm going to wash my hands and put on a fresh apron I'll put the coffee pot on and we'll have a hot roll before you go"

Constance sat because she thought her limbs wouldn't hold her upright The tea kettle chuckled The kitchen clock ticked, and Constance lived a lifetime

"Now then" Meg was back in fresh gingham "Nice fresh coffee nothin' like it, pet"

They sat at the end of the table with a tea towel spread for their cups The rolls were hot, rich and spicy They tasted like wood to Constance

"Goin' to Confession when I'm down there," Meg confided "Faith, and my soul's fair pitted with the sin of me thoughts, these days"

"Sins? You, Meg?"

'Quarreling'

Meg nodded solemnly "Wantin' to take a hand where I shouldn't Peter and Pedro quarrelin' like they niver have in their life Peter callin' Pedro and I shouldn't say the words, and Pedro callin' his father a weak-kneed ould blatherskite to lit wimen folk draw the wool over his eyes"

"W-what are were they quarreling about? Or shouldn't I ask?"

"Faith, and I don't know," sighed Meg. "Well, maybe this trip will cool Pedro off He's goin down for Pedersen, goin' to pick up a crowd of ranch workers and bring thim back That sister a yours heard him makin' arrangements and she got hersilf a ride down, though he said he wouldn't bring her back"

Constance's white teeth cut through the warm bun "Meg these are the most delicious rolls I ever tasted"

"Glad you like them pet Here I'll wrap up a few for you Sakes alive, it's time for us at the dairy"

Constance arrived at the barns, slim, gay, face bright, and mouth liberally crusted with sugar and cinnamon It was a glorious world

Pedro, watching the patrol of cows ambling into the barns after being brushed, inspecting Manuelo and Francisco, Bobo and Carlos, Pascal Luis and Labarta, and finding them immaculate though rebellious, he turned to Constance

"Better wash your face," he advised

Constance was too happy to be rebuffed She felt she had received an eleventh hour's reprieve She pushed a napkin-wrapped cinnamon roll at him. "Meg's," she said

Pedro accepted the roll, his eyes lighting

Constance came back from the washroom, her face rosily clean "Now go wash yours," she advised him in his own tone, and whisked into the barn

Pedro, Donna and Meg departed for San Francisco Constance and John watched them off, waved to them as they went down El Camino Real, Meg's plumed hat bobbing Meg sat in the rear, good Meg even Donna couldn't work fast with the stout Irishwoman watching her

Despite Juliano's black looks and the sadness of Dolores Constance was happy With new men to handle the work, she would be relieved and could give more time to figuring ways and means of stretching the money to meet the costs

"If I can get through this first year," she reasoned, 'the others will be easy"

She was already half way through The herds had adapted themselves to the ranch with patient gratitude for good food, care and comfortable quarters. They were repaying with rich milk

El Cabrillo, stirred from centuries of slumber, was producing food for both the cattle and the people

The Cabrillos were already heavily in debt, but that wasn't Constance's concern When Beachport realized that John Raskthorne only paid grocery and gasoline bills, they'd be more careful of the credit it gave

Constance watched the sunset of that 'third day" Pedro was due in soon Tomorrow the hay would be cut Tomorrow night when she looked down, that golden field would be silver stubble and there would be shocks picked up by the gleaner, and the feed barn and silo would have the first of their home-grown fodder

'Serves You Right'

John was standing by as he had promised She felt his presence like a shadow cast across her sun He had refused to listen to her when she had tried to tell him she would never marry him Now she tried again

"No, Chita, don't say it. You will, in time I know it One doesn't wait this long without winning out Go on with your ranch I'll help you win it. If you run short of money, you know where you can find more'

But Constance shook her head She would borrow no more from John For some time a plan had been forming in her mind First, she must have these three years to prove El Cabrillo could be run as a dairy farm at a profit, and then she would go to the moneyed men of Beachport and borrow the money to repay John.

After that? She wouldn't think beyond that. Somehow she would make enough to pay off the principal of the new loan

Pedro drove in at dusk Constance heard him talking to Pedersen The men would be housed at different places that first night the discharged El Cabrillo men were to be driven to Beachport the next morning

She slept contented With Donna in San Francisco, and Nadine and Don visiting a neighboring ranch for a few days, the house was quiet

It was the quietness that awakened her, a queer stillness like the weight of dead air She lay still for a moment, and then she heard shouts.

Constance scrambled into her clothes and ran outdoors the sky to the north was dull red She ran up the hill and stopped short That great field of golden grain was scarlet Rimmed with fire, eating steadily toward its heart

Constance went back to the house Juliano was at the patio door half clothed a candle in his hand his eyes in the flickering light black discs of fanatical triumph

Constace passed him, then turned 'Who set that fire Julliano?' she demanded

"Senorita" he returned, "El Cabrillo was ordained a cattle ranch The spirit of thees first Don Cabrillo he have return to show hees displeasure"

Constance started to say more, to force him to tell what he knew, but it was useless She went to her office and crossed off the four-figured black total she had that day placed against the debit column

The next morning she went to Peter Taylor and demanded Juliano be fired Taylor, tired, his leg aching his eyebrows scorched, shook his head 'I can't Michael Juliano is part of the ranch, like myself he's another of your father's bright ideas You'll have to sell the place to get rid of him, and that that would be cruel He loves it as we do"

Constance turned to see Pedro coming from the barns and Don, back from his visit, racing up the hill

Don was excited "Boy, that was some conflagration" he said "We heard about it on the radio, call for help by the fire warden Sure burned up the old hay, didn't it? Well Sis, that's what you get Serves you right for trying to be the Almighty"

Pedro stood tense, silent Peter Taylor hunched his shoulders and scowled "Is that anyway to talk to your sister, young man?"

"Turnabout" Opens 3-Day Showing on Palace Screen

Story by Author of Topper Series Features Carole Landis and John Hubbard.

"Turnabout," a rollicking comedy starring Carole Landis and John Hubbard opened a three-day engagement at the Palace theater today. It will be shown today, Monday and Tuesday, but is not scheduled tomorrow because of a stage show booking.

The story of "Turnabout" was written by Thorne Smith, author of the "Topper" series, and is full of gags and hilarious situations. The story has to do with the president of an advertising agency and his wife who, bored at their own work, wish they could trade places. The opportunity comes, strangely enough, and the wife finds herself going to the advertising office to do her husband's work while the husband stays home to do the housework.

Numerous complications result and the plot gets merrily tangled up when the stork decides to make a call. Heading the supporting cast are Adolphe Menjou, William Gargan, Donald Meek and Mary Astor.

Booked for tomorrow only are "Broadway Passing Show," a gay stage show featuring music, dancing girls and comedy acts, and the film, "Mystery Sea Raiders," starring Carole Landis and Henry Wilcoxen.

"Mystery Sea Raiders" goes quite thoroughly into the matter of Fifth Column activities in the United States, leading up to the seizure of an American freighter with its captain and crew.

Scheduled for Wednesday only is the screen attraction, "The Lone Wolf Meets a Lady," with Warren William and Jean Muir in the featured roles. William again portrays the adventurer extraordinary who baffles police and the underworld with ease as he steals fortunes in gems and feminine hearts.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday showings the Palace has booked a double feature program, "Coming 'Round the Mountain," starring Bob Burns and Una Merkle and "I Married Adventure," a film based on the best seller by Mrs. Osa Johnson, widow of the famous explorer, Martin Johnson.

The film, which serves as a dramatic autobiography of Mrs. Johnson, is based on pictures taken in African jungles by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson before his death a few years ago.

Deanna Durbin In Double - Feature Program at State

"It's a Date," a gay musical comedy starring Deanna Durbin and Lewis Howard, and "Oklahoma Frontier," a western film starring Johnny Mack Brown and Bob Baker, will be on the screen at the State theater tomorrow and Monday.

In "It's a Date," Miss Durbin sings a number of songs, including "Love Is All," "Ave Maria," "Loch Lomond," and "Gypsy Lullaby."

On Tuesday and Wednesday the state will feature "Stagecoach," with John Wayne and Claire Trevor and "Society Lawyer," with Walter Pidgeon and Virginia Bruce.

The end-of-the-week bill will include Jack Randall in "Cheyenne Kid" and Joan Bennett and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. in "Green Hell."

IN "BRIGHAM YOUNG" NOW AT OHIO

STARS OF "TURNABOUT" AT PALACE

Carole Landis and John Hubbard, shown above, have the featured roles in "Turnabout," a comedy by Thorne Smith, which opened at the Palace theater today. It will be shown today, Monday and Tuesday, omitting Sunday.

Bromfield's Film at Ohio

"Brigham Young Booked" for Ohio Showing; Power Darnell Starred.

"Brigham Young," starring Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell in a story written for the screen by Louis Bromfield, opened yesterday at the Ohio. The picture will remain through Thursday.

Another of the new fall program of films, "Flowing Gold," starring John Garfield, Frances Farmer and Pat O'Brien, will open next Friday.

Daryl F. Zanuck produced "Brigham Young," and put Dean Jagger, two-fisted capable actor of the Broadway stage, in the title role. Power was given the role of Jonathan Kent, Mormon scout, and Miss Darnell was cast as "the outsider."

Brian Donlevy was assigned the role of Angus Duncan, who attempted to usurp Brigham Young's power. Other important roles were given Jane Darwell, John Carradine, Ann Todd, and Vincent Price. Price was taken from the Broadway stage to portray Joseph Smith, founder of the Mormon cult.

Mary Astor was cast as Young's first and favorite wife, the one to whom he turned in his darkest hours. Jean Rogers is cast as the wife Miss Astor unselfishly sends with Young on the scouting trip that revealed Great Salt Lake as the Mormons' ultimate destination.

Big as the Mormon migration was, it was dwarfed when it came to the matter of time and expense involved in filming it. Zanuck's Mormon trek took two years more time and cost five times as much money as it cost the Mormons.

Although Young eventually had 27 wives, at the time of the epic and heroic trek with which the film is concerned, he had only 12. Young organized one of the most astounding mass migrations in history: 3,000 prairie schooners, 30,000 head of livestock, 20,000 pioneers.

At Lone Pine, Cal., where most of the film was made, a 20-acre Salt Lake City, comprising 55 buildings including Young's house, the Mormon Temple and Tabernacle were set up.

Desert Saga On Program

"20 Mule Team" Featured in Sunday, Monday Bill at Marion.

"20 Mule Team," a saga of the pioneers of Death Valley, with Wallace Beery and Leo Carrillo paired in the leading roles, will be returned for showings at the Marion Sunday and Monday. Beery is seen as a veteran mule-skinner of the desert trail, driving back and forth through the heat to the railroad 162 miles away, while Carrillo appears as his faithful Indian "swamper." Marjorie Rambeau completes the trio of leads in the role of the owner of the hotel and saloon which Beery frequents. His nephew, Noah Beery, Jr., and Anne Baxter are the young romantic pair. On the bill, which will be previewed at midnight tonight is "La Conga Nights," starring Hugh Herbert in a musical farce. Herbert does seven separate roles.

Zorina, the darling of Broadway, is the star of "I Was an Adventuress," booked for Tuesday and Wednesday on a bill with a light domestic comedy "The Honeymoon's Over," featuring Marjorie Weaver and Stuart Erwin. Richard Greene plays the leading male role opposite Zorina, who is cast as an alluring huntress of fortunes until she meets Greene, an intended victim. The story is set against a background of smart Continental spots.

"Island of Doomed Men," starring Peter Lorre, and a Charles Starrett action drama, "Bullets for Rustlers," will be shown Thursday through Saturday. Lorre is seen as a suave, psychopathic tyrant who enslaves convicts on a desert island. Rochelle Hudson, Robert Wilcox and George E. Stone play important parts.

NOW is the TIME to MODERNIZE-REMODEL-BUILD your own HOME

HIGHER STANDARDS RAISE PROTECTION

Expense of Maintenance and Repairs Minimized.

Property which meets high standards provides relatively sounder mortgage security and greatly enhances the protection of the borrower's equity, it is pointed out by bankers and loan officials.

In addition, such property produces elements of comfortable living which give lasting satisfaction and minimize the expense of repairs and maintenance.

The three fundamental elements in every building operation are defined as cost, size, and quality.

"There are two kinds of quality," according to one building official, "that which is essential and that which constitutes luxury. From the standpoint of security for the insured mortgage, the lowest permissible limit of quality in materials and construction is that which insures durability with low maintenance cost. This is essential quality. The quality which pertains to elaboration of decorative and architectural effects, special equipment, etc., constitutes luxury. The highest limit of luxury quality is the point where added luxury becomes unjustified extravagance.

"The desirable ideal is to have both kinds of quality in the home, but, if cost limitations requires sacrifice of one, the consideration of sound investment demands that essential quality be maintained to the exclusion of certain luxury qualities."

Building Quiz

Q. Should doors leading to a porch be placed on either side of a living room fireplace which is located in the center of a wall approximately 13 feet in length? The porch could easily be planned for another location.

A. Since the fireplace is usually the center of activity and interest in a living room, the location of the furniture about it is very important. It should be possible to arrange a sofa, chairs, and tables so that a convenient conversational group can be formed. Doors on either side of the fireplace would make this difficult since the space required for the swinging of the doors and for circulation through these openings would leave little room for any fireside grouping of furniture.

• • •

Q. How can a garbage container be concealed?

A. An underground receptacle, properly drained and having a pedal-operated cover, is a good arrangement. Containers above ground can be included in a small lattice or hedge-screen service yard located on the same side of the house as the garage driveway, kitchen, and service entrance.

• • •

Q. Every time it rains several of our windows swell, and we are unable to open them until they dry out. Is there any way we can remedy this condition?

A. Losen the stop which holds the window sash in place. If this does not improve the condition, wait until the sash is dry and apply a thin coat of paste floor wax throughout the length of the grooves the sash slide in. Painting the grooves with linseed oil also may be helpful. If the windows are too tight even when dry, it will be necessary to remove the sash and plane down one side. Weather-stripping the windows will provide easy sliding of the sash and will reduce air infiltration.

• • •

Q. What types of wood are most satisfactory for a natural finish; a painted surface?

A. Woods having a decorative grain such as oak, walnut, mahogany, and numerous imported woods are most adaptable to a natural finish. Gum, redwood, and white, Idaho, or Ponderosa pine are also used. These woods can be stained, oiled, varnished, or waxed. For painted surfaces, wood should be fine grained, free from knots, sap, or pitch and have a surface that will not raise. Among the woods which meet these qualifications are: northern white pine, redwood, and California, Idaho, and Ponderosa pine. and gum are used but are considered less satisfactory for painting than this group.

• • •

Q. What type and weight of roofing felt is recommended for use under slate? What is meant by shingle exposure, and what are the allowable exposures for slate?

A. Under slate use a saturated asphalt roofing felt weighing not less than 30 pounds per 100 square feet. The exposure of a shingle is the portion not covered by the next course above or the length of the shingle exposed to the weather. Since the standard lap of alternate shingle courses used in laying slate on sloping roofs is 3 inches, the proper exposure is computed by deducting 3 inches from the length of the slate and dividing by two. This means that for a 14-inch slate the exposure should not exceed 5½ inches; for a 16-inch slate, 6½ inches; and for an 18-inch slate, 7½ inches. Proper exposures to the weather for longer or shorter shingles can be determined in the same manner.

• • •

Q — What general principles should I follow in selecting plumbing fixtures for a small house?

A—Plumbing fixtures should be of good quality, but care should be taken to avoid using fixtures too expensive in relation to the total cost of the dwelling. When cost is a primary factor, select the fixtures on the basis of their practical use rather than appearance. With the exception of the water closet, which should be of vitreous china, the fixtures may be of either cast iron or pressed steel having a porcelain enamel finish. Select fixture fittings of high quality since these parts are subject to hard usage both as to surface wear and mechanical operation.

• • •

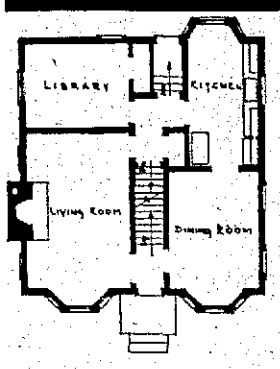
Q—What is a dormer?

A—A dormer is a projection built out from a sloping roof usually used to light and ventilate attics or space in the second story. In general, there are three types; shed dormers, those with flat sloping roofs having less pitch than the roof on which they are located; gable dormers, those having a ridged, double-sloping roof at right angles to the main roof; hip dormers, those with a roof in which the sloping ends and sides meet in a sharp angle or hip. Other types of dormer windows are usually modifications of these.

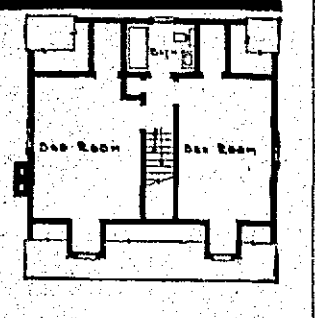
SIMPLICITY VITAL

Simplicity in exterior design is considered by most builders and FHA officials to be one of the basic principles of planning small houses for livability and low cost.

A Well-Planned Two-Story Model



FIRST FLOOR PLAN



SECOND FLOOR PLAN

The plan of this two-story home is simple yet interesting. The first floor is given over to the functions of living while the second floor consists of two bedrooms and a bath. Unusual in a small home is the excellent lighting and ventilation which this house can claim. In addition to the two bay windows shown in front, there is another serving the kitchen in the rear of the house. Given a valuation of $5,900, this property was financed with a Federal Housing Administration insured mortgage of $5,300. Monthly payments on a mortgage of this amount, exclusive of taxes and hazard insurance, amount to approximately $30.

TREES AND SHRUBS ADD TO SMALL HOME VALUES

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the usefulness of planting as an adjunct to the design of the small house, according to home planners.

Trees and shrubbery may be used to enhance the architectural character, it is said, and are frequently more effective than the decorative use of material in providing the charm essential to a satisfactory home.

Planting may also add directly to the living quality of a property.

GARDEN CLINIC

Q—I have a United States government bulletin which recommends fertilizing roses with cow manure but it does not say whether rotted or fresh manure should be used. As it recommends puddling the manure and watering the soil around the roses with it, I am a little doubtful whether the manure should be fresh or rotted. Will you please enlighten me on the point? J. A. F., Mt. Vernon.

A—Although liquid manure is often recommended for the fertilization of plants, I believe that the use of commercial fertilizers is much easier and simpler that I no longer recommend liquid manure. Incidentally, that is made from fresh manure. You can make the equivalent of liquid manure by using one ounce of ammonium sulfate in two gallons of water. Unless, however, your roses have been given a complete commercial fertilizer, may I suggest you apply a 4-12-4 fertilizer containing phosphorus and potash in addition to the nitrogen rather than just the nitrogen of the ammonium sulfate.

Q—Several of my red maples are infested with the flat-headed borer. The trees are approximately nine years old. I would appreciate information on a method of control.

A—There is no control for the flat-headed borer in established trees other than cutting out the borers. You will find, when trees are planted, if they are wrapped for two years with burlap from the branches down to the ground, that the borers will not be able to get into them. After that the trees should have sufficient vigor to outgrow any attacks of borers.

A room ventilator that forces the air through an outside wall has been invented that uses less electric current for its motor than is consumed by a 25-watt lamp.

Inadequate Zoning Codes Stand As Hindrance to Home Building

The best efforts of private home construction enterprise to increase its markets are often rendered ineffective by such local difficulties as lack of adequate zoning laws and outmoded building codes, according to spokesmen of the building industry.

Building codes that are badly adapted to present day requirements are cited as handicaps to the filling of housing needs in certain localities. Frequently devised with the view to protecting the public from irresponsible builders, they often prevent the public from obtaining economies which might be produced by good builders, it is claimed. Many building observers contend that codes sometimes plainly require excess use of certain materials or discriminate to the advantage of favored manufacturers or even legalized wasteful trade practices.

It is pointed out that such things as excessive thickness in walls and excessive plumbing requirements add unnecessarily to the costs of home construction, and that many codes leave little or no place for the innovator.

Cities whose plans require more streets than are needed, and more expensive street improvements than people can afford, are pointed out as being frequently encountered. It is also held by many builders that zoning ordinances can be found which have been used as tools of real estate speculation. Many zoning ordinances have been written solely on the basis of developing individual lots, it is said.

INSPECT SUBDIVISIONS

Residential subdivisions inspected and analyzed by the Federal Housing Administration's Land Planning Division last year contained enough home-building sites for a city of 1,132,000 population covering an aggregate area of 132 square miles, it has been announced.

Harding Wins Season's Opener from Tiffin Columbia

Presidents Score 12-0 Victory Under Lights on Home Field; More Than 2,000 Persons See Game.

By JACK ELLIOTT

COACH BILL WILLIAMS last night unveiled a fighting 1940 Harding High school football machine which turned back a stubborn Tiffin Columbian squad 12-0 under the lights at Harding stadium.

More than 2,000 fans, including a sizeable delegation from Tiffin, watched the Presidents handcuff Tiffin's backs with a forward wall that refused to budge. Tiffin gained a little more than 40 yards through the largely veteran Marion line.

Harding's inexperienced backfield showed up well, displaying flashes of greenness together with signs of considerable driving power and speed.

Among the outstanding new players was Lou Petty, transfer from the hills of West Virginia. Petty, aided by the Harding linesmen, was a miniature powerhouse on offense. Ferguson and Roberts also were able performers.

Edington's kicking for Harding was superlative, his punts averaging around 40 yards.

King Keller, keystone of the line, turned in a topnotch game on both offense and defense, intercepting Tiffin's passes when it counted most. Short and Lewis also gave exceptional performances in the line.

Score Twice

Harding scored first in the second quarter, Kemmerly snaring a 20-yard pass within the Tiffin 10-yard stripe and going over for the score. In the fourth frame, after marching from midfield, Harding scored again on a short line plunge, with Roberts carrying.

Twice early in the game Harding went for long gains, once across the goal, only to have the plays called back.

Tiffin never threatened seriously until the last period, when they started from their own 20 and marched quickly to the Harding 21 where the advance was stalled.

For the Tiffin team, coached by Bob Seele, formerly of Bucyrus, the Harding victory marked the second defeat this season. Bucyrus romped over Tiffin 19-0 a week ago.

Harding Receives

Harding won the toss and chose to receive, Petty taking Egbert's kick on the 20 and scampering back to the 38. Petty and Ferguson advanced the ball to Harding's 45, but here Harding displayed a little early-season stiffness and lost possession to Tiffin on a fumble back to the 38. Brancati recovered for Tiffin, but the invaders couldn't make a dent in Harding's forward wall and Felton was forced to boot to safer regions, the kick going over the goal line.

Harding's attempts to advance from its own 20 were futile and Edington punted to Tiffin's 45. Nutter, Tiffin's 170-pound fullback, smashed into the line for a yard, then Tiffin uncorked an ill-fated aerial attack.

Roberts intercepted just inside the Harding territory and ripped through the broken field for a long, but pointless jaunt to the Tiffin goal line. The play was called back to near midfield, Harding drawing a 15-yard penalty for clipping.

Ferguson gained 6 and Roberts 4 for Harding's initial first down and then Petty plunged from the Tiffin 43 to the 20. Harding drew a 5-yard penalty for backfield in motion, then failed to gain, Edington kicking on the fourth down to Tiffin's 20.

Young, light and speedy Tiffin quarter, was held to a yard gain through the line and Short and Lewis ganged up to toss Van Camp back to the 19. Tiffin drew an offside penalty and kicked to Hodge on the Tiffin 45. Hodge lost 3, Petty regained it and Edington punted over the goal line as the first quarter ended.

Second Quarter

Tiffin's efforts were effectively balked by Harding's line again and the invaders were obliged to kick to Harding's 47.

Ferguson skirted the end for 7 and Petty dove to within inches of a first down. Edington fumbled, Tiffin recovering on Harding's 47, but again the Presidents' defense, both against ground and air attack, stalled Tiffin.

Ferguson took Tiffin's 33-yard punt on his own 12 and returned the ball to the 28.

Petty, trying the line, was abruptly stopped and slightly injured. Roberts gained 4 through the line to the 34 and Edington kicked to Tiffin's 34.

After Young failed to gain through the line, Tiffin tossed another pass which this time proved to be more costly. Edington intercepted it on Tiffin's 42 and dashed back 14 yards to the 28. Ferguson gained 2, then Edington heaved a 20-yard toss to Kemmerly who lunged the remaining few yards for the first Harding touchdown.

Bascos was called in to kick the extra point, but apparently the injury Pete suffered during the baseball season is still bothering him and he missed the try. The touchdown came with about five minutes left in the half.

Short kicked off, Van Camp taking the ball on his 18 and carrying back to the 29.

A pass from Young to Felton was good for 15 yards and, apparently encouraged, Young added 7 more around end.

Returning to the air, Tiffin tossed another ill-aimed pass, which King Keller grabbed on Harding's 42, thus ending what appeared to be a high-powered Tiffin drive.

Harding drew a penalty for excessive times-out but Hodge picked up the yardage again around end. Petty bucked up to Harding's 45, but Hodge lost 2 on a reverse and Edington kicked Tiffin back to its own 22. Just before the half ended, Van Camp advanced 9 yards on a lateral pass, which Tiffin seemed to use effectively, but not enough.

Third Quarter

Short's kickoff was taken on the 20 by Felton who pranced back to his own 45. Nutter gained 1 and then battered his way for 11. Young gained 3 more, but Short and Creasap decided to put an end to this business and tossed him back 3 on his next try, forcing Tiffin to kick.

Ferguson returned the ball 6 to his 21 and Harding drew another untimely penalty back to its 6, getting 15 yards for holding. Tiffin took over Edington's punt on the Harding 45, tried another pass which Keller again intercepted and ran back to Tiffin's 49. The combined efforts of Roberts, Petty and Edington fell short of a first down and Ed*ington kicked to Tiffin's Van* Camp on the 8, Van Camp returning to the 14. Three plays netted 9 yards for Tiffin and again they kicked, the ball going out on the Tiffin 45.

Three Harding thrusts budged the ball about 8 yards. Tiffin took over on their 20, after Edington's kick went over the goal, but were helpless and had to kick out of the danger zone to their 43 as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

Harding was equally impotent and kicked to the Tiffin 22, Van Camp returning 5. Tiffin drew another 5-yard penalty and Felton kicked to the 50 from where the Presidents started a 50-yard touchdown march.

Ferguson dashed around end for 13, a pass was good from the 37 to the 23, Keller gained 3 and Petty 4 to the 16. Ferguson gained 1 and Roberts heaved a pass to Creasap on the 9. Petty roared through the line to the 3 and Tiffin asked the officials for a little time to think things over.

It didn't help. Ferguson gained 1 through the line and Roberts plunged the remaining 4 for Harding's second goal. Bascos' kick again failed.

Harding sent in several new men with a 12-point lead, but a 59-yard Tiffin march to the Harding 21 soon brought back the regulars. After Felton returned Harding's kickoff to the Tiffin 37, Columbian opened up with double-laterals and forward passes which gained 18 yards and then 24, ending up on the Harding 21.

Here the Tiffin attack fizzled out, Keller again intercepting a pass on the Harding 10.

Harding gave the fans a bad shock when it fumbled on the next play, Roberts recovering on the Harding 3.

Edington kicked a perfect long-rolling ball which bounced by the Tiffin safety man to Tiffin's 45. Tiffin couldn't penetrate the Harding defenses in the few minutes remaining and kicked to Ferguson who returned from the Harding 30 to the 44. Harding gained 6 on three plays and the game ended with Edington punting.

LaRue Defeats Claridon In 1st 6-Man Grid Game

Launching six-man football in the county, LaRue High school defeated Claridon, 38-6, on the LaRue field yesterday afternoon.

As expected, the game was a wide-open affair with an abundance of passing and broken field running, much more than in the usual 11-man game. Every man on the team is eligible for pass receiving.

Coach A. B. Augenstein of Claridon, who promoted the abbreviated game in the county, declared this morning he still likes the idea even though his team was defeated.

He blamed the defeat on his team's inexperience, the game being the first played by a Claridon school team. LaRue, on the other hand, has been playing regulation football several years. Coach Augenstein reported a little more drill in fundamental football will bring out his boys.

Claridon will play its second six-man game next Friday at 3 p. m., entertaining Ashley. Other games on the schedule are: LaRue at Claridon, Oct. 4; Claridon at Ashley, Oct. 11 and at Liberty-Union Oct. 18.

The six-man game is a boon to schools with small enrollments such as Claridon. Only 12 boys are on the Claridon squad.

Summary of yesterday's game:

LaRue—38	Pos.	Claridon—6

Dunkin	C	R. Price
Hastings	RE	Mayes
Stanaberry	Q	Lashley
Flesher	H	Yager
Price	F	J. Price

Score at half—LaRue 20, Claridon 0.

Scoring—Price 2, Flesher 2, Dunkin 1, others unavailable for LaRue; J. Price for Claridon.

Last High Mark Set as Four-Day Race Meet Ends

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 21 — Seven world's records were broken during the four-day Grand Circuit race meeting held here this week for the first time.

The last record-shattering mark was turned in yesterday by William Cash, bay colt owned by L. C. Sprague of Minneapolis, in the $2,500 Allen Hotel purse event.

Driven by Walter Britenfield of Springfield, Ill., William Cash set a cumulative mark of 6:11¾ to shave 3¼ seconds off the world's three-heat pacing record for three-year-olds on a half-mile track established in 1937 by Dr. Gatton. Fearless Peter, driven by Dr. H. M. Parshall of Urbana, won the second heat but the victory did not affect the Sprague colt's honors.

In the day's other feature race, Meredith, bay horse owned by the Millbrook, N. Y., stables, turned in the fastest trotting mile of the year over a half-mile track with a mark of 2:03½ in the second heat of the second class trot, which Juvadale won with first and third heat victories. Parshall piloted Meredith and Sep Palin guided Juvadale, a chestnut gelding.

Parshall also drove Symbol Price to a two-heat victory in the third division pace, final event of the meet.

MAR-O-DEL TOURNEY FINALS SET SUNDAY

Bob Graham and Bud Baker will clash in the 36-hole finals for the championship of the Mar-O-Del golf course tomorrow, with the morning round set for 9:30 and the afternoon session at 1:30.

Graham, who was in the finals several years ago but lost out, won his way to the finals this year by defeating Waller Hughes, 1939 and 1938 champ, 5-4. Baker defeated Newt Mihard in his semi-final match, 2 up.

Neither Baker nor Graham has ever held the course championship. Thus the winner of tomorrow's match will have only one leg on the championship trophy. A player must win the title three times to hold the trophy permanently.

Both Boast Records of No Defeats in Mat Encounters Here.

Milwaukee's pride, burly Gordon MacKenzie, will risk his perfect Marion mat record Monday night at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. gym when he tangles with Bob Montgomery of Hot Springs, Ark.

Montgomery, not exactly a lily himself, also boasts an untarnished record in Marion. And as far as MacKenzie's rough 'n' tough style is concerned, the Arkansas boy can just about match it.

The two will meet in the 90-minute final bout. In the 45-minute semi-final go, Fred Carone of Italy and Harry Kent, 230-pound monster from Portland, Ore., will try their skill.

In Preliminary

Paired for the 20-minute opener starting at 8:30 are Tex Riley of Amarillo, Tex., and Lefty Pacer of New York, light-heavies.

All the belligerents for the Monday show are well-known to Marion mat followers.

MacKenzie has been in the limelight of recent weeks, especially this week when he forgot his rule book and slugged out a victory over Gil Knutson of Canada. MacKenzie has built himself a reputation here for oustanding meanness, specializing in nothing particular and excelling in all types of mayhem.

VITT UNDER FIRE AFTER DETROIT BEATS INDIANS, 6 TO 5

Argument Rages on as Teams Square Off Again; Manager "Panned" for Relieving Harder with Feller.

By DALE STAFFORD
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT, Sept. 21—The opening battle was ended but the argument raged on today as the Detroit Tigers, a full game up on their foes, squared off against the Cleveland Indians in the second part of the American League's pre-World Series triple feature.

As usual the argument centered on the No. 1 man in most of Cleveland's disturbances this year—Manager Oscar Vitt—against whom 12 of the Indians rebelled last June 13.

Vitt Under Fire

This time Vitt's strategy was under fire as a result of the eighth inning of yesterday's contest in which Detroit scored five runs to lock up a 6 to 5 victory after appearing hopelessly defeated. Vitt was being criticized for:

(1) Removing Pitcher Mel Harder after he had allowed only four singles and one run in seven and two-third innings;

(2) Sending Bobby Feller in as a relief hurler when the young man had benefited from only 24 hours rest after going all out to defeat the Washington Senators, 2 to 1, on Wednesday.

Vitt showed no surprise when informed that he was being "panned" in some quarters.

"I'd do the same thing in the same situation today," Vitt said. "Harder, who is past 30 years of age, was tiring and had lost his control."

Was Still Good

Second-guessers pointed out that Harder had stood the Tigers on their heads and that a walk to Barney McCosky and a single by Charley Gehringer with one man out was the sole damage that had occurred in the inning in which he was removed. A five-minute huddle involving Vitt, Harder, Catcher Frank Pytlak and Shortstop Lou Boudreau preceded Harder's departure. Capt. Hal Trosky did not participate in the discussion.

"I feel badly about losing," Vitt decided, "but there are two games left in the series and we aren't out of it yet by a long shot."

Feller was losing pitcher for the fourth time this season against the Tigers.

Hank Greenberg, who is batting .411 against Feller for the year, greeted Bobby with a sizzling line single to center and Rudy York and Frank Higgins singled right to send him to the showers. Joe Dobson came in and yielded two singles and a walk before finally retiring the side.

15 Hits for Tribe

The Indians accumulated the staggering total of 15 hits—11 of them off Louis (Buck) Newsom—as compared to Detroit's nine. Even more jittery than when they lost three straight games here earlier in the month, the Tribesmen committed four errors.

The Tigers sought to make it two straight and increase their league lead to two full games today by pitching Lynwood Rowe, their comeback hero. Rowe, who was sent to the minors with a sore arm two years ago, has 15 victories and three defeats to his credit. Al Milnar, who will start for Cleveland, boasts a record of 17 wins and nine losses.

Each September some major league club gets steaming hot. But with a week of the season remaining the Detroit Tigers look like this year's "hot" team.

Since Sept. 4 the Tigers have won 14 out of 18 games and the Indians have won ten and lost ten. That's why the fiction-like 6-5 triumph of the Tigers over the Indians yesterday was significant beyond its immediate effect upon the standings.

The two clubs still have five games to play with each other and in baseball anything is possible. Cleveland might win today or it might win both today and tomorrow. But Detroit has a one-game edge and in September a team that is cooling off doesn't have much chance against a club that has just reached the boiling point.

The New York Yankees, the only other club still with a mathematical chance at the championship, were idle yesterday and their status was not affected particularly. The two front-rank foes must break even over the whole six-game route to help the Yanks.

The entire National league was idle, also, and the only action outside Detroit was the season's last night game at St. Louis, where the Browns beat the Chicago White Sox.

CRESTLINE DEFEATS GALION, 21 TO 0

Large Crowd Sees Game Under Lights at Losers' Field.

Special to The Star

GALION, Sept. 21—Ideal weather prevailed to bring out the football fans from two neighboring towns when Crestline gridders hung up their eleventh consecutive victory with a romp over Galion, 21 to 0. The visiting eleven outplayed Galion in every department under the lights Friday night at Heise park here, and scored in every period but the third. After a short punt Crestline marched 39 yards in the first quarter with Molendo crashing the line for a yard and the first touchdown. He passed to Stump for the extra point. The score was then 7 to 0. In the second quarter, after 6 minutes when Gilson punted, Corbin recovered for a touchdown behind Galion's goal. Fisher kicked the extra point, bringing the score up to 14 for Crestline.

The team's battled on even terms in the third quarter but Light, a sub back, intercepted Carmel's Galion pass and ran 20 yards to the Galion 24 and five plays later he hit center for 9 yards and the final touchdown. Fisher's extra point kick was good.

Galion's bright spot of the game was when Dewalt made a 34 yard run to Crestline's 9-yard line after Crestline scored its last touchdown.

The game ended with Light making a 24-yard run to Galion's 46.

Crestline marked up 13 first downs to Galion's 4.

Minneapolis, Kansas City All Even in Association Playoff.

By The Associated Press

Minneapolis and Kansas City, bitter rivals regardless of the setting, were all even again today in their fight for a berth in the final baseball series of the American Association playoff.

Milt Haefner pitched the Millers to a 5 to 1 victory over Kansas City last night in the fourth game of their preliminary series.

Columbus took a two to one advantage over Louisville in the other preliminary competition, defeating the Colonels, 14 to 5. Tex Hughson failed to finish the first inning, the Birds hopping on him, Al Hollingsworth and Leroy Parmelee for eight runs and sewing up the game then and there.

The Baltimore Orioles exploded three homers in downing the champion Rochester Red Wings for the second straight night, 8-5, to deadlock the other half of the playoffs, 2-2.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—There'll be $50,000 worth of coaching talent in the Knute Rockne film—Howard Jones, Pop Warner, A. A. Stagg, Elmer Layden, Bill Spaulding and Marty Brill. . . . Babe Ruth has turned down a $5,000 offer to play Santa Claus for a N. Y. department store this Christmas. . . .

Today's Guest Star

Bob Stedler, Buffalo Evening News: If Steve O'Neill does not manage Buffalo next season, it is likely he will have the Jersey City job in spite of the fact that it is a Giant farm club. . . . After all, Mayor Frank Hague is the boss there."

About the only wrestling coach who didn't apply for Ed Gallagher's old job at Oklahoma A. and M., was Art Griffith, who got the job. Seems Gallagher left word he hoped Griffith would be called in to pick up where he left off. . . . Interest in the American league race is so widespread, the scoreboard at Ebbets Field has no room for National league news these days.

If the Tigers fail to get into the World's Series, Buck Newsom can pick up $3,500 by pitching exhibitions on the coast. . . . Here's a guy to watch: although only 29, Eddie Leishman has won two pennants in two years as manager of the Spokane (Wash.) club. . . . The N. Y. Football Writers' association is working on Cornell to enlarge the press box accommodations which can't take care of the crowds now that Cornell is big time again.

McNEILL WINS [illegible]

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21—McNeill [illegible]

Greenwood Wins Way to Series Finals

After playing nearly even ball in the early stages, the hard-hitting Greenwood Evangelical Sunday school team rounded up five runs in the sixth inning of their game with Keytown Campers last night for a 7-2 victory in the semi-finals of Marion's "Little World Series."

As a result the Greenwood nine, winners of the Sunday School No. 2 league pennant, will meet Epworth's No. 1 Sunday school prize entry Monday night to decide the city's softball championship. The game will be played at Lincoln park and is scheduled to begin promptly at 5:45 p. m.

Hits Bunched

Although both Greenwood's Woodie Walters and Harold Millisor of Keytown pitched a good brand of ball, both teams were able to bunch the hits effectively.

Greenwood scored first in the last half of the opening inning. Roseberry, first man up for the Sunday schoolers, lined out a double into left-center field. Cook went to second on a bunt and Roseberry was out trying to get home. Then Marshall singled to right field scoring Cook. The next three men up flied out, retiring the side.

After a scoreless second inning, Keytown went on a scoring spree, netting two runs. Then Greenwood came back with another run in their half of the third, knotting the score at 2 up. Neither team was able to hit effectively in the fourth or fifth innings and then in the last of the sixth, Greenwood broke loose with a barrage that won the ball game.

Drives In Two

Marshall, Armbruster and Anderson got singles or walks, filling the bases. Donaugh hit a two-bagger, scoring Marshall and Armbruster. Ingram doubled, bringing in Anderson and Donaugh. Roseberry doubled, scoring Ingram. Cook singled advancing Roseberry and Potter struck out, ending the inning.

Score by innings:

Keytown	002	000	0—2 1 2
Greenwood ...	101	005	*—7 5 0

Batteries: Keytown, Millisor and C. Seiter; Greenwood, Walters and Donaugh.

TWIN BILL TO BE PLAYED TOMORROW

Marion, Sycamore Game in Lincoln Park Program.

Marion Eagles and the Sycamore Merchants, each with a victory over the other, will tangle Sunday at 3 at Lincoln park in another in the series of games to raise funds for the new park fence.

The first game of the twin bill will see the Marion Merchants and Marion Steam Shovel Co. softball teams clash at 1:15. This will take the form of a grudge tilt.

Sycamore will bring an outstanding lineup here, among the players being Shortstop Lucadello, brother of the St. Louis Browns' new second baseman who has sparkled in recent games. Sycamore's pitcher, Stover, was formerly with Tiffin in the Ohio State league and Catcher Stubbs is an ex-House of David star.

Forbis or Fetter will hurl for the Eagles with Joe Darnell catching.

Cy Seybert of Bear Upper Sandusky, former American Association and Ohio State league umpire, will work in the game.

The Problem of Moving Edith to Her New Quarters Presents More Difficulties.

EDITH'S EYES opened at Miss Whitlock's command.

"We are going downstairs now!" she asked.

"Yes, right away," the nurse answered, and I told myself that the expression in her eyes was less desperate than it had been when I had been in the room before. Whether the change had its roots in excitement at changing her quarters, or in relief at my assurance that Dicky was willing to see her and talk to her, I did not know but I hailed the improvement with mental relief.

"What did you tell me to do?" Edith asked childishly, and I realized that her brain was far from functioning normally.

"I told you not to sit up," Miss Whitlock reiterated patiently, "but to put your feet out of the bed."

Edith Obedient

Edith obeyed her docilely, and as Miss Whitlock took up one stocking, I took up the other. But at the first touch of those ice-cold feet, I looked in startled inquiry at the nurse, and she nodded an answer to my unspoken query. Then she took the foot she held between her palms, and began to chafe it vigorously. I followed her example, and Edith stirred impatiently.

"Don't she said. "You hurt me."

"Oh! no, we're not," the nurse told her pleasantly. "Besides we're only going to rub a minute or two more. Then we get you downstairs, we'll put a nice electric pad to your feet. You would have had one before if I had dreamed of this. But the last time I felt them, not very long ago, they were almost too warm."

She kept up her chatter as we went on rubbing. I knew with the intention of diverting Edith's attention, and in a few more seconds she nodded to me, and we put Edith's feet into warm hose and slippers, and wrapped a warm bathrobe over her night attire.

"Now!" the nurse said briskly, "just slip your arm under hers, and I'll do the same on this side. Then we can support her as she walks, and we'll get her downstairs as quickly as possible."

"Is she?—" I began and bit back the query promptly, for Katherine's presence in my household, and observation of her ways have shown me the futility of questioning a nurse's decision.

A Dilemma

"Able to walk downstairs?" Miss Whitlock finished my query for me. "In almost any other conditions, I should say, 'No, she isn't,' but—I'm in a dilemma. We two are not able to carry her down without the risk of hurting her—we'd have to do it, of course, in case of fire or anything like that which required speed—and she doesn't wish to see anyone save you and your husband and me—and your husband isn't available. So—I really think she will be less harmed by walking than by summoning other help."

I read between the lines of her little speech, and realized that there was danger of harm coming to Edith by letting her walk downstairs in her enfeebled condition, but I also saw the reasonableness of her decision. Above everything else, Edith must not be excited, and the bringing in of any one else to aid her, would key her up, I was sure, to a danger point.

Sure She's Able

But I had one resource which I was sure I could use, and Edith's tremulous voice steeled my determination to avail myself of it.

"Oh! I can walk," she quavered. "Please do not bring anybody else."

I slid my arm from beneath hers, and spoke hastily to Miss Whitlock.

"Will you wait five minutes?" I said. "I think I have a solution for this."

I turned back to the woman watching me, and looked at her steadily.

"Tell me, Edith," I said quickly. "If Dicky can leave his work for five minutes or less, would you be willing to let him carry you down to your new quarters?"

questions which must be worked out, not as isolated interests, but as one. Once the handicaps the New Deal has placed in the way of business are removed, there will be a revival of activity which will supply jobs for those in forced idleness and those on relief. Republicans are utterly opposed to the philosophy of the New Deal which sees this country stalled on the dead center at the peak of its expansion. Republicans are positive optimists on the future possibilities of the nation.

The demand today is for a change of atmosphere and attitude in Washington. Government should be the umpire and should not attempt to be the general manager of the nation's business. A vast reservoir of private capital only awaits reasonable security in investment. Billions of this capital is needed for plant expansion and renewals that have been awaiting more favorable relations with government.

When agriculture and industry, the capitalist and the laborer, can work harmoniously with Washington seek more for the general welfare, the need for relief will be largely eliminated and unemployment will be reduced to a minimum.

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Sept. 21—A substantial amount of business has been transacted in Boston during the past week of good combing fine territory and Texas wools. Half blood wools shared moderately in the buying movement, but coarser wools had only a spotty demand. Prices strengthened during the week on fine and half blood western wools. Graded combing bright fleece wools received some demand at gross basis prices ranging 84-87 cents for fine delaine, 84-86 cents for 64s blouds, 40-42 cents for 56s blouds and 41-43 cents for 50s blouds.

BUYING PROPS STOCK MARKET
WHEAT
Steels, Farm Implements and Rails Are Among the Favorites.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 21—Selective buying put props under the stock market in today's brief session.

Steels, farm implements, rails and an assortment of preference issues were among the favorites. With the exception of the latter, however, some of which pushed up 1 to 3 points or so to new 1940 tops on 10-share trades, advances generally were limited to minor fractions.

While the trend during most of the proceedings, was moderately higher, many leaders were unchanged or slightly under water at the close. Transfers approximated 275,000 shares.

Market sentiment seemed to have taken a turn for the better, brokers said, but fears of unexpected European upsets over the week-end caused even the most bullish commission house customers to keep commitments relatively light or even up accounts in some instances.
